WHO STARTED IT ANYHOW?

Ramsey MacDonald, the well known British laborite, in a recent article in The Nation, in commenting on the 15 cruiser bill now before the senate, said that the execution of the American cruiser program "will be a great blow to the nation from which the Kellogg pact originated." In an editorial headed "Reminding Mr. MacDonald," the New York World very sensibly calls attention to a few facts which ought to be remembered in the consideration of our cruiser program. The World points out that when Mr. MacDonald took office in 1924 with the labor government he found a paper program calling for the construction of eight of the new super-cruisers to which our pacifists now object in the American naval program. At that time the American government had no cruiser program and Mr. MacDonald laid down five of these new cruisers for the British navy. Mr. MacDonald ought to know therefore something about how this cruiser building started. Continuing, the World declares:

"Commenting upon this momentous decision, which constituted the first breach of the spirit though not the letter of the Washington treaty, Commander Kenworthy, a supporter of Mr. MacDonald has said: 'Mr. MacDonald and his government made a fight for it; but they were outnumbered in the House of Commons, they were out-matched in the press and they were out-manuevered by their advisers in the Committee of Imperial Defense. Moreover they could not risk running counter to what had been the creed of the British public for centuries.

"Mr. MacDonald went out of office in 1924 and was succeeded by Mr. Baldwin. He also made a fight against the Admiralty, and he, like Mr. MacDonald, was beaten by the Admiralty. The result was the Birkenhead program of 1925 which provided for nine 10,000 ton cruisers and seven 8000 ton cruisers, four to be built in the first year and three in each year thereafter. So by the beginning of 1927 Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Baldwin between them had started construction of 12 of the new type cruisers. The United States by that time had begun building two.

"It is plain therefore beyond dispute, that the American government has proceeded very slowly and very reluctantly to build cruisers. It started after the evidence could no longer be doubted that under labor governments and conservative alike the British admiralty was proceeding to construct a new formidable navy within the letter but outside the spirit of the Washington agreement. It is rather disturbing therefore to have Mr. MacDonald, who must accept the responsibility for the beginning of this unhappy business, lending the weight of his authority to the notion in his own country that the United States is to blame for it. ***

"If we may be permitted to offer Mr. MacDonald some advice, it would be that he drop the thesis that the American cruiser program is a 'great blow' to the pact of Paris and start explaining to his own people that the cruiser program is the direct result of the conviction in America that the British Admiralty will not assent to a cruiser agreement unless the United States enters the conference with equal bargaining power. That would be the truth of the matter.  The present cruiser program of the Coolidge administration, has the support of the dominant opinion of both parties here, not because the conviction has come to us that only a sharp and concrete reminder that we desire to see upheld the spirit as well as the letter of the Washington treaties will inspire pacific opinion in Britain to recognize that the British government cannot have its cake and let the Admiralty eat it."

Women in politics a Detroit woman says, are selfish and jealous, and of course we're glad that no one can say anything like that about the men in politics.—Springfield Union.

ACTIVITIES OF SCOUTS WIN PRAISE

"Too few people have a clear realization of the real purposes of the Boy Scouts. In the popular mind the program is arranged for play, for recreation, is desired solely to utilize the spare time of the boy in such a way that he may develop physically while engaged in pleasurable pursuits. This is but a faint conception, one almost wholly misleading. The program is a means to an end. Its fundamental object is to use modern environment in character building and training for citizenship."

CALVIN COOLIDGE
President of the United States

"If every boy in the United States were a Scout there would be few, if any, gangsters or gunmen twenty years from now. I wish the movement Godspeed, and trust it may spread according to its deserts, which are manifold."

S. PARKES CADMAN

President, Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America

"The Boy Scout movement has meant more to boys than anything that has happened to youth."

DR. SVEN KNUDSEN

Prominent Educator of Denmark and founder of "My Friend Abroad."

"The Boy Scout organization—it saturates this boy of yours with the strength of oak fibre. It keeps him clean in mind and body. It makes him competent in head and limb. It teaches him to express himself—not in the way of fools who talk about selfish self-expression—but like a true, fine member of the community and the state, and the nation, who finds his self respect and the love of others in his manly service."

RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD,
Writer and Diplomat.

"Every Scout is an influence for good in the community in which he lives. Every Scout organization helps to encourage and keep the important lessons of clean living, of manly courage of industry and thrift, of the obligation of helpfulness to those needing help, and of all those things which make for right living."

HORACE MANN TOWNER.

SCOUTS BUILD FINE CITIZENS MAYOR SAYS

Holding that the Boy Scout movement is the biggest thing known in aiding clean citizenship among the younger generation Mayor Mattie Chandler has issued the following statement in support of the Boy Scout fund drive now in progress in this city:

"I know of no movement that is doing more to bring up our boys to be clean and upright citizens than the Boy Scout movement. The Boy Scout is not restricted by social standing or religious creed. Every boy within the age limit is eligible to join."

"From what I have seen of scout work it is something that appeals to every normal, healthy boy, and excites his interest, which is important in holding his attention throughout the period when character is being formed."

The Boy Scout movement gives the boy something to do in his spare time. It teaches clean living; gives the scout an understanding of the fundamentals of life; trains him in leadership and obedience, and altogether fits him for the duties of citizenship when he grows up."

"I have great admiration for the men of this community and elsewhere who are carrying on the work, and I appeal to the citizens of Richmond to give liberally toward the fund needed to carry on the Boy Scout activities."

"I believe thoroughly in the slogan that to give to this fund is not a donation but an investment in better manhood and citizenship in the future."

Governor of Porto Rico.

"There is no finer organization than the Boy Scouts of America and I am sure that if every boy in America was a member, our country would soon have the finest citizenship in the world."

LEADER URGES BOY SCOUT FUND AID

Richmond citizens are responding heartily in aid of the Boy Scout fund drive now in progress in this city according to Dr. A. B. Hinkley, chairman of the local drive.

More than 100 workers are in the field aiding in collection of the fund which will play a vital part in the building of manhood for Richmond.

In urging all citizens to give the movement their support Dr. Hinkley issued the following statement:

"The Boy Scout movement in our city is doing much toward educating and developing our youths physically, mentally, morally and spiritually, and I urge every citizen to subscribe to the local movement."

"Headquarters have been established at 715 Macdonald avenue. The sum of $5600 is to be raised for the purpose of equipping a week end camp, the site having been donated by the city; for permanent equipment at the summer mountain camp 18 miles above Sonoma; for a leaders' training course, open to any adult interested in child character building work and for the expansion of scout troops, as there is a crying need for several new troops to take care of boys who are asking to join."

"The Boy Scout movement is non-sectarian. Its membership is open to Catholic, Protestant, Jew and Gentile, but boys are encouraged to attend the church of their faith, believing the church should take care of the boys' religious training."

"One of the great sources of strength of the Boy Scout movement in America is the fact that it gears into the program of the church, home and social and fraternal bodies of American life which have for their objective and purpose the building up of a better citizenship with spiritual ideals, higher purposes and noble intent and high devotion."

"The Boy Scout movement faces the most challenging year in its history. The need of scouting was never more urgent. Youth must find that which will temper and restrain its new freedom—that which will direct its boundless

Sanford Asks Citizens To Aid Scouting

Joining with other Richmond organizations and citizens P. M. Sanford, president of the Richmond chamber of commerce has urged all citizens to give their aid in the financing of the scout movement in Richmond.

Sanford is using the following statement:

"To safeguard Richmond's future, it becomes the duty of all of her people to support the agencies or organizations that are helping to mould and shape the lives of the boys and men through their character building and general development programs. I heartily endorse our Boy Scout organization for the part that it is playing in this most important phase of our community life."

P. M. Sanford, president,

LOCAL SCOUTS CONTINUE DRIVE

Richmond Boy Scout fund drive has assumed all appearance of going over the top, according to Dr. A. B. Hinkley, Scout drive committee head and Scout Executive Robert F. Cox last night.

The P. T. A. groups have rallied to the support of the drive and are aiding materially in collecting the money for the local Scouts. Large donations were received from many sources yesterday, Cox stated. The industries have not been turned in. They are expected to be turned over to the committee today or tomorrow.

The Scouts are seeking $5600 to take care of their activities here. Of this amount $1200 will be turned over to the county council and the remainder will be used for the Scout camp, Scout leaders' training courses and other Scout necessities here.

enthusiasm and energy into constructive channels. And scouting was never in better position to answer the need. Boys want to be scouts. Communities are eager for it. Its record of service and accomplishment have won for it the utmost good will."

LOCAL PLAYER PRAISED BY VITT

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 20.—UP—Manager Oscar Vitt of the Hollywood Stars, training here, expressed enthusiasm today over the performance of Bill Rumber, who although out of the game for some time, is driving the ball fast and wide. Two of his hefty swats bounced off the top railings of the Navy field, throwing a feat seldom equaled before.

Maloney, a rookie from the Utah-Idaho league, showed to advantage at second base and Tony Bernardo of the same league league pleased the manager by the way he covered the shortstop position. Maloney is likely to get the berth of Johnny Kerr, drafted by the Chicago White Sox.

The first exhibition game of the Stars will be played Saturday against the Naval Air Station nine.

Bernardo is a Richmond boy and has been catching for local teams. William Gualdoni is also a member of the Stars.

PINOLE RANCH FATAL FIRE SCENE

In the upholstery of the rear seat which had been noted by Patrolman George Reifschneider who assisted in removing Giosso from the car at the hospital.

Coster when questioned by police said that Giosso had been burned when he smoked while working around the gasoline tank of the car. Authorities however, will investigate this statement further, stating that if a fire as serious as the one which burned Giosso had occurred that close to a gas tank of an automobile the car would have been seriously damaged.

Workers Questioned

Two workers on the ranch, Tony Barber and Eugene Durare were also questioned but insisted they did not know anything about the burning of Giosso.

Coster told police that Giosso whom he knew by the name of Tony Pierre, had leased the ranch on the upper Pinole valley for a vegetable garden and as far as he knew the operation of the ranch was the extent of Giosso's activities.

Coster denied knowing anything of Giosso's car, which was found on an Oakland street following a mysterious telephone call to an Alameda automobile agency from which the car had been purchased.

Fear Expressed

Relatives and friends have insisted that they knew nothing whatever about the tragedy and associates of Giosso questioned on the matter refused to give any information, acting as though they feared some sinister hand.

Giosso was brought to the Alameda emergency hospital on the morning of Feb. 1 at about 6:30 a. m. The two men who brought the injured man were got away before Patrolman Reifschneider, who assisted the nurse in giving first aid to the dying man could obtain their names or any other information. Giosso was wrapped only in a sheet, table cover and comforter from which all marks of identification had been removed.

Richmond police have continued a tireless investigation since the death of Giosso and were rewarded last night in the finding of the car and admission by Coster that he brought Giosso to the hospital here.

Martinez Beer Garden Razed For Bungalows

MARTINEZ, Feb. 20.—The old beer garden on Berlessea street, one of the last landmarks of the pre-Volsteadian days, is again an attraction for residents of Martinez.

But it is not beer nor dancehall music that lures the crowds these days.

Workmen yesterday began tearing down the old landmark to make for a bungalow court.

Old timers on the scene recalled many stories of the beer garden that in its day attracted excursions from San Francisco and Oakland on Sundays. Many a fair sized riot occurred under the mammoth oak tree that provided shade for the revelers.

The building was moved to the site from Rodeo Valley 60 years ago. The oak tree and the mansion house will soon be only memories.

Eight Carloads Of Studebakers Received Here

Eight carloads of new Studebaker sixes and eights were received yesterday by Lester J. Thomas, local Studebaker dealer, thus setting a new record for the number of cars delivered to a dealer in this county at one time.

Forty-two cars are in the shipment which is being unloaded at the Southern Pacific station here. These machines, representing the last word in motor transportation, will be placed on display at Thomas motor company's agency at Tenth street near Bissell avenue.

The three collected six points each in the course of the night.

Way did the scoring for the Bats. He collected seven baskets and two free throws for a total of 16 points.

This game was in the P. A. A. league. The Corgiat Tires' lineup includes a number of Richmond boys.

The lineup:

FEDERAL DRYS IN GANGSTER SEARCH

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—UP—The federal government sent its prohibition enforcement resources to the aid of the investigation of the St. Valentine's day massacre today and again involved the police department.

"Find the policeman with a beauty parlor sweetheart and you've got something," prohibition agents told the police.

A rebuke from James M. Moran, prohibition commissioner, followed the Chicago prohibition department's charge last week that police were mixed up in the slaying of the seven gangsters of the George "Bugs" Moran "Alky Mob."

Police Suspected

Nevertheless, today the dry agents backed up the charge with details.

"The man you want," police were advised, "is a policeman from whom the Moran gang high-jacked $12,000 worth of liquor. He has a partner in a roadhouse north of Chicago and a sweetheart who operates a beauty shop."

William Russell, commissioner of police, appeared interested in the information, but made no comment.

The dry agents' intimations again centered attention on the persistent reports that a high-jacking episode on the southeast side was behind the massacre and that two men in police uniform led the five supposed "hangers" who carried out the killings.

New Theory

The police department's inquiry turned up from the cross-crossed trails of ransomed an entirely new theory of the motive of the massacre.

Tony Lombardo, Sicilian "Alky" king, was slain by Moran gangsters, and the St. Valentine's massacre was expected in retaliation by friends of Lombardo who had sworn to avenge him, the theory ran.

However weak that guess may be, every line the policy inquiry has taken has brought them up against a liquor feud of one sort or another.

Y. M. D. Group Hears Address On Far North

Arthur Eide, who spent 23 years in the Arctic regions, addressed members of the Richmond Young Men's Division at a dinner meeting in the Y. M. C. A. last night.

An interesting account of life among the Eskimos was recounted in the address. Eide for three years taught natives on an island on which he was the only white man.

He was so far from civilization that he did not learn of the World War until it was nearly ended. He and Mrs. Eide returned to the mainland intending to enlist only to find that the Armistice had been signed, he declared.

The Young Men's Division will have as its speaker next Wednesday night, Capt. Omar Kauffman of the Salvation Army who will recount the work of that organization.

LUCY BANNING DIES IN ITALY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20.—(U.P.)—Lucy Banning, thirty years ago the belle of southern California and the toast of Los Angeles, died today in Florence, Italy, of pneumonia, her relatives here were notified.

Four marriages kept her name in the limelight and at the time of her death she was Lucy Banning Ota, wife of a Japanese student. The world could not overlook her successive romances, but it always forgave. She was the daughter of General Phineas Banning, pioneer operator of stage coach lines.

As a mere girl she married John Bradbury, a young millionaire, then there was an affair with Captain Russell Ward, an Englishman, a return to Banning and a divorce. She then became the bride of Mace Greenleaf, leading man in a stock company. She eloped with Robert Ross, whom she married. Then later she started Pacific Coast society by marrying Ota, who wrestled Ad Santelli for the world's Jujitsu title here two years ago.

Harbor development will reach such a stage that deep water will be available for the largest vessels.

What Is Coming

Ford Motor Company will start on its new assembling plant the latter part of the year.

The Mintzer tract of nearly 200 acres will be developed so that industries will be afforded choice locations.

The two new harbor units of the City of Richmond and the Parr Terminal Corporation, costing over $500,000 will be completed next July and be ready to receive cargo.

There is much activity at the new plant of the California Spray Chemical company, and the plant will be operating shortly after January 1st.

All plans for the new factory of the California Vitreous Porcelain company are complete, and work on the buildings to be erected on Kearney street will start in about two months.

There are many other things in the wind, for 1929, details of which will be given you later.

Diabetes and Heart Trouble Relieved

Vallejo, Sept. 13, 1928 To Whom It May Concern: I suffered from Diabetes, Heart Trouble and Nerves for some time. It seemed as though no relief could be had anywhere. Two months ago, however, I began to Emmerich drink the Fong Wan Herbs and I soon realized their healing power. I am happy to testify that my troubles have been entirely overcome and that I now feel like a new woman. I am writing these few lines in order that others so afflicted may know where to find relief. My name is EMMA KENNEDY, 113 Main St., Vallejo, Cal.

People who wish to learn more about Fong Wan's knowledge of herbs and methods of healing should get his new book free at his office or mailed to any address upon receipt of the postage.
